Cell Phone Recycling. The city of Glendale is dialing in on a good cause with its annual cell phone recycling campaign. Celebrate America Recycles Day, November 15, with this special cell phone-recycling program for the month of November that will help to put phones in the hands of domestic violence victims.

The public is encouraged to drop old cell phones off at Jobing.com Arena at Gate 3 on the Northwest corner of the building, any of Glendale's three public libraries and the Glendale Visitor Center in downtown Glendale.

After the cell phones are collected, the West Valley Advocacy Center will arrange for the phones to be recycled. Once the cell phones are refurbished, the phones will become available for victims of stalking and domestic violence.

It is important to note that the city of Glendale does not recycle cell phones through its home recycling program.

GlendOberfest. Games, contests and candy await you at GlendOberfest! Held at Sahuaro Ranch Historic Area, from 5-10 p.m. on October 31, this annual event features carnival-style games, on-site trick-or-treating, a Hallowympics parade and more. Bring your pre-carved or decorated jack-o-lantern for the pumpkin contest. Everyone is encouraged to dress in costume. This event is a great alternative to traditional door-to-door trick-or-treating. 'Be Safe, Be Seen' On Halloween. Children are four times more likely to be struck by a car on Halloween than any other night of the year. The city of Glendale wants you to have a "spooktacular" night. The city of Glendale is promoting the message "Be Safe, Be Seen" to remind families of some precautions while enjoying the much anticipated night of fun. The Glendale Fire Department offers these safety tips for a safe and fun Halloween.

- Wear something reflective when trick-or-treating. Through the end of October, the city of Glendale Transportation Department has partnered with the city of Glendale Libraries to offer reflective bags for trick-or-treating and reflective stickers to apply to costumes. These items can be picked up at any of the three city libraries and are free while supplies last.

- Stay on alert when driving and watch for children especially in residential neighborhoods.
- Make sure costumes fit to increase the mobility and visibility of children wearing them.
- Remind children not to run and to use crosswalks or street corners after looking both ways.
- Follow USA Safe Kids suggestion that children under the age of 12 be accompanied by an adult.
- Check all treats before they are eaten and report anything suspicious.
- Use a flashlight or a liquid light that glows after it bends for lighting jack-o-lanterns instead of candles.

Glendale 11 TV Earns Emmy Award. Glendale 11 TV is the proud recipient of one of the much sought-after 2009 Rocky Mountain Emmy Awards, which were given by the Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences this past weekend.

The station earned this prestigious award in the Best Environment Program/Special category for “Glendale’s Home Green Home,” a program about Glendale’s partnership with Habitat for Humanity to build the first platinum level LEED home in the state of Arizona. Glendale’s Neighborhood Services Department spearheaded this successful building project that transformed a dirt lot into a much needed home for one well-deserving Glendale family. “Glendale’s Home Green Home” was generously funded by donations from the Jenny Norton and Bob Ramsey Foundation.

The program was produced by Gary Stafford and Julie Watters and hosted by Nick Calderone, in partnership with the staff of Glendale 11. Read more.
